How Coaches Can Support the ICJ Advisory Opinion

17th December at 9:00 am GMT / 18th December at 3:00 pm GMT

In this SCC Roundtable session, you will learn about the recent landmark UN International Court of Justice (ICJ) Advisory Opinion on the climate crisis, and its potential for positive impact for people and planet. The suit was driven by a small group of Pacific Islands law students. We'll hear their story of courage, and we'll reflect on what this means for coaches and mentors as we support our clients.

Special Guest: Belyndar Rikimani Pacific Islands Students Fighting Climate Change

Belyndar is the Campaign and Research Lead for the PISFCC and a lawyer by profession.

Over the past six years, Belyndar has been deeply involved in the climate space, particularly through her work on the International Court of Justice (ICJ) Advisory Opinion campaign — engaging in community advocacy at national, regional, and international levels. A passionate advocate for climate justice, Belyndar firmly believes that real change begins when those most affected take the lead in shaping their own future. Belyndar will share about their efforts in bringing the case to the ICJ and the impact their group made at COP30 through sharing their story.
